AMERICAN PEOPLE HAVE THE RIGHT TO FACTS ABOUT ETHICS INVESTIGATION INTO SPEAKER'S TIES TO GOPAC

(Mr. BONIOR asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. BONIOR. Mr. Speaker, the Hartford Courant says that the Ethics Committee investigation of Speaker GINGRICH has "the foul odor of cover-up." How much longer is the Ethics Committee going to let this charade continue?

We now know that four members of the Ethics Committee—including the chairwoman herself—have ties to GOPAC. The same GOPAC which financed the Speaker's own campaigns to the tune of $250,000 a year.

The evidence against Speaker GINGRICH is so damning that last week, two of the three Republicans at the FEC voted to make their evidence public.

Mr. Speaker, I am here today to call on the chairwoman and the members of the Ethics Committee to fully disclose their ties to GOPAC. And I am calling on the Speaker himself to release the names of past GOPAC donors and release the list of past GOPAC expenses.

Mr. Speaker, if you've got nothing to hide, you've got nothing to be afraid of. But if you keep dragging your feet, the American people have a right to ask: what are you trying to hide?

AMERICAN PEOPLE WANT A BALANCED BUDGET AND NOT CHARACTER ASSASSINATION

(Mr. HAYWORTH asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Mr. HAYWORTH. Mr. Speaker, I listened with great interest to my friend, the minority whip, trying to whip this body into a rage with an editorial from the Hartford Courant. It is interesting, Mr. Speaker, to hear really the poster boy of American liberal journalism, Bob Woodward, on "Meet the Press" this weekend, saying in effect that all of these chargers were trumped up, that there was no reason to attack the Speaker on any of these things.

In fact what we see, Mr. Speaker, is a minority so bereft of ideas, so unwilling to come to the table, so unwilling to address the central question, which is balancing this budget in 7 years, that they will try any tactic of character assassination, any exaggeration, anything to avoid the point.

Mr. Speaker, the American people want it now, they want it simply, they want us to face up to the challenges they put us here to face up to. They want us to balance the budget and not to engage in character assassination.

GATORS SCORE SEC THREE-PEAT

(Mrs. THURMAN asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend her remarks.)

Mrs. THURMAN. Mr. Speaker, for the Florida Gators, it's 12 down and 1 to go.

That's right, after thrashing the Arkansas Razorbacks 34 to 3 for a Southeastern Conference three-peat, the fighting Gators from the University of Florida will be meeting the Nebraska Cornhuskers in the Fiesta Bowl on January 2 to settle the question of who is the No. 1 team in the Nation.

Guess whom I'll be rooting for?

The undefeated Gators, led by the tactical brilliance of coach Steve Spurrier and the pinpoint accuracy of quarterback Danny Wuerffel, stomped 12 opponents during this record year. The Gator offense left their opponents dazzled and befuddled, while the defense did the rest.

Never before have the University of Florida Fighting Gators played for a national championship. To all the dedicated coaches and gifted athletes of the 1995 University of Florida football team—and on behalf of the proud alumni, congratulations on an already historic year.

And look out Nebraska, cause the Gators will be growling again in the Fiesta Bowl.

LET THE BEST TEAM WIN

(Mr. CHRISTENSEN asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. CHRISTENSEN. Mr. Speaker, I cannot let go unchallenged a laying down of the gauntlet like that from my friend, the gentlewoman from Florida [Mrs. THURMAN]. As a Cornhusker and a proud supporter of Tom Osborne and the next Heisman trophy winner, Tommie Frazier, we are looking forward to our January 2 meeting with the third Florida team in 3 years.

To refresh the memory of the gentlewoman from Florida, 2 years ago we lost to Florida State. Last year we beat the University of Miami for the national championship. This year we are looking forward to repeating our national claim to that trophy. We are anxious to have at our helm, a Florida individual from Bradenton, FL, Tommie Frazier, who we are all hoping will win that Heisman trophy award.

It is going to be a fun game. I will see my colleague in Florida, and we look forward to a great, great game. Let the best team win.

FORTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(Mr. LEWIS of Georgia asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Mr. LEWIS of Georgia. Mr. Speaker, 40 years ago today, December 5, 1955, the Montgomery bus boycott began after Rosa Parks refused to give up her seat and move to the back of the bus. It marked the beginning of a long and difficult struggle toward equal rights and civil rights in this Nation.

Forty years later, those signs that I saw growing up in the rural south, those signs that said colored men, white men, colored women, white women, colored waiting, white waiting, are gone.

We have witnessed what I like to call a nonviolent revolution in America. It is a time and a period that we will never go back to, but we must never forget.

On the occasion of this important anniversary, I want to pay tribute to the leaders of that struggle, to Rosa Parks and to my late great mentor Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.

We have come a long way toward achieving what Dr. King called the "beloved community", but we still have a long way to go. Let us, on this anniversary, rededicate ourselves to building a truly inter-racial democracy in America. For in truth, we are one nation, one people, one house, the American House.

IT IS TIME FOR PRESIDENT CLINTON TO GET SERIOUS ABOUT BALANCING THE BUDGET

(Mr. CHABOT asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. CHABOT. Mr. Speaker, President Clinton has said time and time again that he supports a balanced Federal budget. True, he has never actually proposed such a plan, but because of the Balanced Budget Act passed by this Congress, he has now got an opportunity to walk the walk, not merely talk the talk.

The President made a start last month when he agreed with this Congress to balance the budget in 7 years. Of course, the very next day, his chief of staff, Leon Panetta, told the American people that they should not read too much into that. But, Mr. Speaker, I am willing to take the President at his word, even if his own chief of staff apparently does not.

Mr. Speaker, the Congress has brought to the negotiating table a detailed balanced budget proposal. The President thus far has brought only press releases. The President can accept our plan, or he can tell us how much more he wants to spend and just where he is going to find the money to pay for it.

With a Federal debt at nearly $5 trillion, it is time for the President to get off the dime. Mr. President, let us work together to balance the budget.

VOTE AGAINST H.R. 2099, VA-HUD AND INDEPENDENT AGENCIES APPROPRIATIONS ACT

(Mr. FLAKE asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. FLAKE. Mr. Speaker, while I would like to commend the conferees on their efforts to increase funding for
